

To Death Barefoot
A Dwarf Can Kill
Safely Flying
An Old Man's Money

By Arthur Brisbane

COPYRIGHT, 1930. King Features Synd., Inc.

LOS ANGELES, CALIF., Jan. 30.—In Orleans, France, yesterday, Augustine Agostini, 27 years old, who killed her mother to get the mother's farm, was sentenced to death. In accordance with the Napoleonic code, seeking to humiliate and punish more severely those that murder their parents, Augustine will walk barefoot to the guillotine.

Interesting historical contrast between her death and that of Joan of Arc, the maid of Orleans. One walks to the guillotine barefoot for murder, the other for her mother. The other walked barefoot to the stake, earned alive for saving her country.

In New York, a dwarf only four feet high, Peter Arata, is sentenced to death for murder. The modern automatic pistol made it easy for Peter to kill. In ancient days when men fought with clubs, maces and swords, he would only have been a jester, too small to murder.

Similarly a small nation, as small as Hungary, Holland or Switzerland in these days of flying machines and poison gas might be the most efficient international killer in the murder game of war.

Conditions change. A five-year-old baby taken up in an airplane might release a poison gas bomb that would kill 500,000 in a big city.

Mr. Young, assistant secretary of the Department of Commerce, announces that passenger airplanes must carry two-way radio facilities to receive weather information and send emergency messages.

Presently more powerful engines, bigger ships, better weather information, will eliminate the importance of weather conditions. Meanwhile the government, not youthful, enthusiastic pilots, should decide on flying or not flying.

A pilot with youth's dread of being called "yellow," is inclined to risk any weather. At every airport where passengers depart the question "to fly or not to fly" should be asked of some solemn person, not a pilot, and one influenced entirely by the passengers' safety.

R. C. Forbes, asking himself, "what is this all about, this terrific strenuousness and strain?" as he talked to George F. Baker, richest banker in the world, says of a certain multimillionaire, not Mr. Baker, that he would "trade all his riches for youth."

The multimillionaire thinks he would do it, but he wouldn't.

A man like Edison might desire renewed youth, to live another life of useful invention. But a man who has only made money would be foolish to live his life again.

An intelligent man, after working hard enough for a lifetime, would not look to the gate by which we enter, but rather look the door to the end of life, as a trained dog in the show years for the moment when he may get down on all fours and trot off the stage.

Old men cling to money that protects them from the rough world. It is the one real thing extracted from life's unreal dream.

A fortune to an old man is like an old oyster, rough shell to the oyster, a protecting reality taken from the waters of life's changing sea.

Industry, railroads and agriculture declare that immigration from Mexico is necessary to prosperity. It is suggested that Porto Ricans living in territory owned by the United States, therefore "American" be brought in to make good the labor shortage.

As regards Filippino, victims of savage attacks, it should be remembered that they are in the country legally and therefore entitled to live and work and should have protection.

A question that suggests itself to many is this: Why not modify restrictions against European immigration and allow the country to be built up in the future, as has been in the past, by ambitious, enterprising youth from European countries?

Ulfert G. MacDonald, son of Britain's Labor prime minister, is on his way here from Chicago, setting a good example by flying.

The intelligent young man intends to study Hollywood and Western architecture.

He will find in Los Angeles, San Francisco, Seattle and other coast cities much worth studying in the way of architecture.

In Hollywood will find enough to keep a student all the rest of his life.

IS EXAMINED BY MEDICAL BOARD AT HOSPITAL

Arrives There With His Own Doctors, Lawyer and Men From Old Liquor Squad

Oliver B. Garrett, ex-liquor squad "car," underwent a physical and mental examination at City Hospital today of grueling proportions.

Emerging from the examination room after an hour, Garrett looking drawn and haggard, said: "They did everything to me, and when I say that I mean everything."

"They went over me from the side of my feet to the top of my head," the former liquor rider said. "You've no idea what those fellows can do to you. They gave me a mental examination, too, shooting a lot of questions to me. One pulled my tongue out and sprinkled something on it."

It was later explained that the powder sprinkled on Garrett's tongue was to test his sense of taste.

The departure from the hospital of the retired patrolman, whose retirement on pension may be investigated by the attorney-general, was in marked contrast to his arrest and detention.

He arrived spectacularly, attended by a train of personal doctors and policemen, and dramatically pointed out a patient sought by police for years on a default warrant.

Patrolman Joseph Clark, now of Division 10, formerly in Garrett's squad, said, "Oh, yes, and arrested the patient, charged with maintaining a disorderly house. His name was Webster."

The medical retirement board has held up Garrett's examination for some time owing to the tardiness of two of his four personal physicians.

Garrett's medical staff consisted of Dr. Frederick W. O'Brien, 500, expert of 465 Beacon st.; Dr. John Sears McCormick of Jamaica Plain, family physician; Dr. Louis Wolfson, specialist of 550 Beacon st.; and Dr. M. Burke, Commonwealth ave., dentist. The last two were the tardy members.

The police detail, all the members of which had served under Garrett and were present when he was arrested, was in marked contrast to his retirement.

Patrolman John Regan, Division 14, Dexter Fort, where was Dr. Joseph Clark, Division 10; Thomas Kelly, Division 7; Jeremiah Sheehan, Division 15; and Daniel Welby, still a member of the liquor squad.

Garrett arrived at the hospital accompanied by his lawyer, Arthur Herbert F. Callahan, and Mrs. Garrett, to be joined by the doctors and policemen.

They proceeded to the neurological department where was Dr. Joseph Clark, Division 10; Thomas Kelly, Division 7; Jeremiah Sheehan, Division 15; and Daniel Welby, still a member of the liquor squad.

Garrett and His Crew Talk of the Good Old Days

While awaiting re-examination today, Oliver B. Garrett, pensioned patrolman, revived the past with Officers Regan, Clark, Daly and Sheehan, members of the squad of liquor raiders whom Garrett led until ordered to walk a beat. The four policemen were present to tell of the accident which allegedly incapacitated Garrett. (Staff photo.)

ON BORAH CHARGES

Senator Says Record Was in Hand When Bay State Man Was Transferred

Washington, Jan. 31 (AP)—Prohibition Commissioner Doran today ordered John F. J. Herbert of Worcester, Mass., ad administrator of Montana and Idaho, to come here for investigation of charges reported against him through Senators Borah, Idaho, and Wheeler, Montana.

The prohibition commissioner and Senator Borah also engaged in an exchange of letters today over the charges against Herbert. The Senator replied the prohibition bureau already had the charges.

Frank E. Flynn, chief of the department of the prohibition unit, has supplied Senator Borah with a record which he says tells of an investigation of Herbert when the latter was administrator for Maryland.

Borah said Flynn told him this record was in the hands of the prohibition bureau at the time Herbert recently was transferred from Baltimore to Idaho.

Pope and Marconi Plan for Radio Plant

Vatican City, Jan. 31 (AP)—Pope Pius today received Senator William Marconi and conferred with him regarding the installation of Vatican City's wireless plant whereby the Pontiff expects to have better communication with the outside world than is now afforded.

British Naval Envoys in Parley Clash

London, Jan. 31.—Changing his plan over night, the five-power conference went into executive session at 3 p. m. today.

The purpose of the session was to smooth out features of the map and procedure of the special committee decided on yesterday.

As the delegates came together reports were widespread that the British were having difficulty in satisfying the dominions as to their representation on the conference committee.

Whether this caused today's unexpected session in place of the agenda committee session originally planned was not officially disclosed.

The only explanation offered represented a two-hour session of prime minister and the dominion prime ministers.

Mr. William S. Patten of Beacon st. and the Rt. Rev. Thomas F. Davies, Episcopal bishop of Western Massachusetts, will be married some time before Lent, it was announced today.

Bishop Davies, who is 58, and a resident of Springfield, was never married. He makes his home with his sister, Mrs. Marion Davies, who also has a residence at Lenox, where she spends much time. He confirmed the reported engagement today.

Society Couple Wed on Jan. 21 Are Back at Studies

Springfield, Jan. 31.—The elopement of Miss Mary Risley Ramage, daughter of Mrs. James Martin Ramage of Holyoke, a Barnard College student, and Robert Morris Swaney, Amherst junior, was revealed today.

Mrs. Ramage, who lives in Northampton, announced that the elopement occurred January 21, the couple going to Mount Vernon, N. Y., where they were married.

After a honeymoon in New York city the bride was expected to return to her studies at Barnard while the groom, who was a student at Amherst, was expected to return to his studies at Amherst.

The elopement was kept secret for a time in the belief that knowledge of the marriage would cause official disapproval of future young Swaney to leave.

An agreement was reached, however, under which he will be permitted to take examinations preparatory to transferring to the University of Pittsburgh. The young couple will reside with the bride's parents.

Operate on Gauthier

New Bedford, Jan. 31.—While visiting the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Gauthier, here, Raymond Gauthier, assistant manager of Stetson City's wireless plant, was struck by an acute attack of kidney trouble and was removed to Truro Hospital, Fall River, for an emergency operation.

Drop to Earth From Airship in Glider

Lakehurst, N. J., Jan. 31 (AP)—An object that looked no larger than a dragon fly attached to the whale-like belly of the Navy dirigible Los Angeles was released from the airship at a height of 3000 feet today and glided to earth 12 minutes later, demonstrating the feasibility of landing passengers from airships in motorless as well as powered planes.

The experiment went off without a hitch and was witnessed by a particular excitement.

The Los Angeles rose into the air with the glider's 125-pound pilot, Lieut. Ralph S. Barnaby at the single control of his small plane.

The glider was seen to nose down gracefully, seemingly without having been detached from the Los Angeles. Chief of the airship, Barnaby, the first licensed glider pilot of the United States, leveled off and began circling the field. He could have stayed aloft for an hour or more if he had wished, he said, on landing.

Hoover Too Green to Satisfy Grundy

Providence, Jan. 31.—Mr. Ada M. Barr, New York widow, will receive more than $100,000 in an out-of-court settlement of her suit for $200,000 against the estate of the late Thomas F. Hines, Cranston millionaire.

The trial before jury in Federal court was abruptly ended soon after nine minutes purported to have been taken by the Senate lobby committee.

"We have had hard enough times," Grundy said, "when we have had experience in economic problems, with tariff and taxation and things like that, let alone a man who has never had any experience with legislative procedure and because his mind runs on many other subjects than economic subjects."

Grundy was quoted in a speech before the word manufacturers on Dec. 18, 1928, as expressing concern because of the President-elect's lack of knowledge of legislative procedure and because his mind runs on many other subjects than economic subjects.

Collier Lands Injured Man

With seas so heavy an injured member of the crew could not be transferred to a coast guard cutter summoned by radio the collier Severance, bound for Boston from Newport News, Va., made a 100-mile run from Winter Quarter light station, off the Delaware Capes, to Lynn Haven, Va., today and landed him there for medical treatment.

The victim, whose name was not mentioned in news dispatches, received lacerations of the head and possible internal injuries when he became jammed in a door as a result of the rolling of the vessel in the rough sea.

Grundy was quoted in a speech before the word manufacturers on Dec. 18, 1928, as expressing concern because of the President-elect's lack of knowledge of legislative procedure and because his mind runs on many other subjects than economic subjects.

CONGRESS INVESTIGATE DRY LAW ENFORCEMENT IN BOSTON

OTHER LARGE CITIES S. S. WOLFE

Arrow Fad May Stick

By FRANKLIN COLLIER

THERE IS NO TELLING WHERE THE BOW AND ARROW STUFF MAY LEAD.

Borah, Brookhart, Walsh and McCall Lead in the Demands for Inquiry

Washington, Jan. 31.—Congressional investigation of prohibition enforcement in Boston and other large cities was forecast today.

Such a development is confidently anticipated by those in close touch with the situation in the House and the press feeling that the plaid surface of the Senate, and nearly ready to burst through.

An investigation of enforcement in two districts already has been demanded; once started, the investigation likely will grow until it is all-inclusive, at least so far as the larger cities of the nation are concerned.

The activities of Senator Borah, however, are heading straight toward a sweeping inquiry that should throw the whole situation wide open and reveal the truth of dry enforcement.

Brookhart has already named a New York club "where the law is being flagrantly violated" and is known to be holding back considerable information to be given at the right time.

Demands already voiced and others anticipated when the battle opens in both branches must crystallize, it is felt, in one sweeping Congressional inquiry that will encompass the most serious question of enforcement in all the large cities.

Senator Walsh has stated in no uncertain terms that he will be subject in relation to Massachusetts and recently has been growing more emphatic than ever.

There is a gentleman's agreement in the Senate not to discuss prohibition at any length until the tariff bill has been finally voted upon. Once this measure has been passed, however, the flood gates will be thrown wide open.

Wells and dry allies have been priming themselves with ammunition for the occasion.

Senator Howell (Rep.) of Nebraska, who was challenged by President Hoover to give names in connection with charges of laxity in enforcement in Washington, has been called much data.

The brief session against the Century Club in New York, showed that Senator Tydings, of Maryland is well equipped with facts and figures to make a strong argument.

In any event, fireworks are assured on Feb. 12 in the House when the Judiciary committee begins hearings on the seven wet bills designed to bring about repeal of the Eighteenth Amendment.

This will be the first time hearings ever have been held on legislation sponsored by the anti-prohibitionists, and the wet bills are going to make the most of it. They intend to literally dump reams of evidence into the record in an effort to show that prohibition is unpopular and can never be enforced.

Meanwhile, administration leaders move to get the bill transferring enforcement from the Treasury to the Justice department, and justify through the House in short order.

Chairman Watson, of the House committee on executive expenditures, is preparing a detailed report on the money question already has been approved in committee, and it will go to the rules committee the first of next week.

Rep. Smith (R.) of New York, chairman of the rules committee, promised to give it priority, so that consideration on the floor will be possible by the latter part of next week.

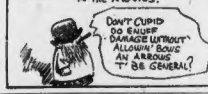

Rep. Cochran (D.) of Mo., was understood to be preparing a report dissenting from certain features of the measure as reported out of committee.

FORGERIES OF U. S. MONEY

Russian Counterfeit Plot Is Exposed at the Trial of Georgians in Berlin

Berlin, Jan. 31 (AP).—Trial of two Georgians in the so-called Chechenovs counterfeiting case has developed over night into an exposure of alleged international features, in which the Russian Soviet government is the principal conspirator.

Counsel for the two Georgians declared the Soviet plot-backer (one of the governing bodies of the U. S. S. R.) decided two years ago to forge British pound notes and dollar notes of the United States for distribution in this country.

Many alleged details of actual Soviet forgeries were listed by the defense counsel in a statement, which said the counterfeit notes were manufactured in the Soviet's own printing house in Leningrad, and in a Russian city on the Don River.

It was charged the notes were put in circulation in Europe and in Asia.

The prosecutor replied to the allegation that they were not proved, and that the court could not investigate all the forgeries.

The court ruled the defense counsel's allegations were immaterial at the present trial, which was adjourned until Monday.

BARE LETTERS PASTOR'S SHOOTING

Gossip Note 'Begging Widow to Forgive Caused Him to Wound Two and Self

Ottawa, Ill., Jan. 31 (ENB).—The "bare letter" which led to the shooting of the Rev. James A. Wilson, 60, for shooting his church pastor the janitor's wife and himself at Mendota, Ill., was revealed today by State Atty. General.

It was this letter that led the Episcopal minister to go to the home of Anne Elliott, the janitor, and demand that it be returned to him. Elliott is said to have refused and the shooting followed.

According to Hanson, the pastor had written the letter to Mrs. John Wagner, a widow of his congregation, and it fell into the hands of the janitor's wife. She is accused of showing it to others.

The letter read: "Dear Mrs. Wagner: This letter asks your forgiveness. The matter has worried me more than anything else in my life. I have made a mistake."

"I wouldn't have been human if I had not and I won't right with my God until you forgive me. I had gone to Chicago to see a physician. While there I intended to end it all, but couldn't face my Maker without your forgiveness. If you give it to me I will be the happiest man in the world. If you do not I don't know what will happen."

It was signed "Wilson."

According to Hanson, Mrs. Wagner accused him of unwelcome advances.

Wilson was held to the La Salle County Grand Jury for attempted murder. He is said to have fallen here from self-inflicted wounds.

Garrett Submits to a Gruelling Test

The room at a group of patients, watching his arrival.

Suddenly Garrett laid his right hand, and pointing, said: "There's a man like police want on a default warrant for running a disorderly house." Then followed the arrest, after which Attorney Callahan issued the following statement:

"We will submit to the examination without waiving our rights. It is the contention of the police committee that the department, which says a disabled officer may be examined once a year, means a calendar year."

"I think that is a wrong interpretation. We believe that examinations should take place at 12-month intervals, but nevertheless shall submit to examination."

HARTEM GUESSING

There was considerable speculation as to whether or not Garrett would submit to the examination prior to his arrival at the hospital. In view of a statement he made a few days in which he said he had not made up his mind.

The medical board will make a certified report to the police department on the officer's ability to return to duty. His own physicians were brought to check on the examination, apparently, to police officers to answer any possible questions regarding the incident in which Garrett was injured.

Plans for an early hearing by the House Committee on Ways and Means on the Garrett investigation resolve were today disrupted when at an executive session it was found that such a hearing would seriously interfere with the budget work, which is before the committee.

While no definite date was decided upon by the committee, it was thought that the Garrett case could be reached during the week of Feb. 10.

Mr. Garrett waited with Atty. Callahan, the personal doctors and the policemen in an outer room while the examination was taking place. The board then called in Dr. McCormick, and examined X-ray plates taken immediately after the accident and from time to time thereafter. Three plates are said to have shown a fracture of the skull.

Dr. Wolfson was then called in and questioned, after which he announced it was satisfied to consider only the medical testimony and would not hear the policemen.

Garrett will have a public opportunity of answering his critics tonight, when he makes his first and only public appearance, which is to be at the Tray benefit show at the B. F. Keith and the Keith-Bow theaters. He will speak at both houses at about 11:15 o'clock.

CURIOUS LAW FORCES DIVORCED DUKE TO WED AT REGISTRY

DEFIED USE OF ANCESTRAL CHAPEL

Westminster to Take Miss Ponsoby as Bride During This Week-End

London, Jan. 31 (AP)—The Duke of Westminster and Miss Lottia Mary Ponsoby, daughter of Sir Frederick Ponsoby, treasurer to the King and keeper of the privy purse, will be married during the week-end at Prince's Row registry office.

It had been expected when the engagement was announced early this year that the wedding would take place in the private chapel of the Duke's ancestral seat, Stain Hall, Cheshire, but it is understood that a special license is necessary for the use of such chapels and the church authorities do not grant them to people who have been divorced and whose original partner is living.

The Duke of Westminster has been married twice. His first wife, the Countess of Salisbury, died in 1919 and the second in 1928.

The Duke of Westminster, who is 39 years old, is a Roman Catholic, and owns more than 600 acres of valuable property in England. He is reputed to be one of the wealthiest persons in England.

The duke's first wife was Miss Constance Edgema Courtenay, who was married to him in 1911. They were divorced in 1928.

In 1929 his grace married Miss Mary Nelson, who was the daughter of Sir William Nelson. They were divorced in 1928 after rumors were current that the duke was married to a woman named Mrs. Gabrielle Chanel, Parisian couturier.

CUT NEW PHONE RATE 20 P. C.

Albany, N. Y., Jan. 31 (AP)—The Public Service Commission today ordered the New York Telephone Company to put into effect at midnight a new rate schedule which, in effect, reduced by 20 per cent the rates for long distance calls.

The new schedule already announced by the telephone company and which continued four party service, was altered at present, which the company had announced would be discontinued.

The commission also ordered the telephone company to make the necessary changes in its rate schedule and to file the revised schedule with the commission.

Members of the commission said that the new schedule was necessary because the company had been asked to reduce the rates for long distance calls.

CURES COULD BUT DIES OF BURNS

Philadelphia, Jan. 31 (INS)—Frank A. Hays, 65, a well-known architect, died today in the Jefferson hospital, from burns caused by a mustard plaster which he had kept on his back too long.

The cause of his death was one of the most unusual ever to come to the attention of medical men here.

On Jan. 20, Hays was found unconscious and apparently in great pain. A thorough examination revealed his agony apparently was caused by a plaster on his back.

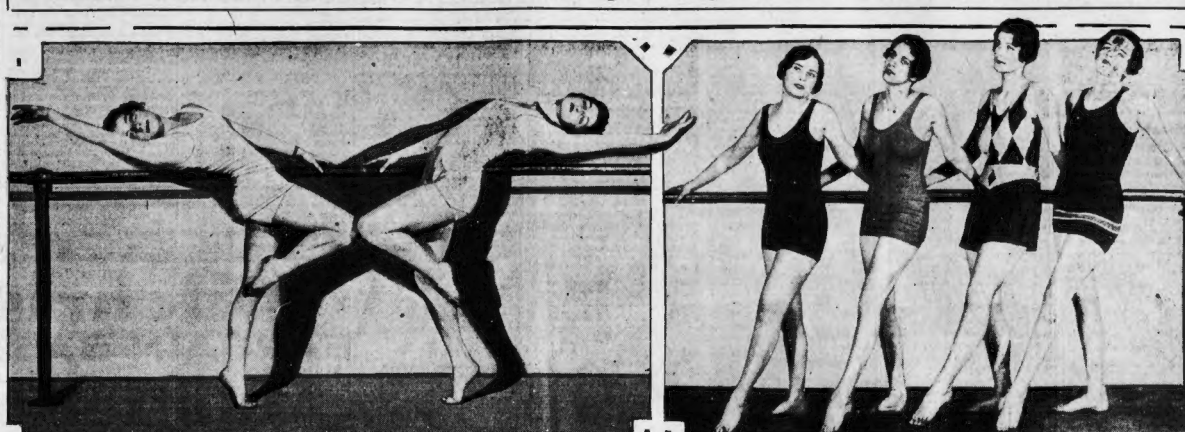

Further investigation revealed he had placed the plaster on his back almost a week before in an effort to cure a back-ache. His illness cured his forget about the plaster and was burned internally.

Hollywood, Cal., Jan. 31 (INS)—Richard Arlen was recovering today from a blow received in a motion picture scene which knocked him unconscious.

Dream Comes True for Deaf Man, He Hears

Tampa, Fla., Jan. 31 (AP)—Peter Ramos, a former Tampa councilman, deaf for years, dreamed last night that he could hear. The dream was so vivid that he awoke and reached him in a decade exacted by artificial aid. Doctors had said that a cure was impossible. He awakened and smiled to himself.

"If dreams were only true," he thought. He heard the chiming of a clock; he was still dreaming? Started, he cried aloud. An answering cry came back from members of his household. He heard them plainly.

THOUSANDS HIT IN STOCK FRAUD

Toronto, Jan. 31 (AP)—Suspension of 14 of the 51 members of the Standard Stock & Mining Exchange as a result of charges of conspiracy to defraud caused uneasiness among margin holders today.

Thousands of persons throughout the Dominion are affected. The suspension of five of the largest brokerage houses in Toronto followed the arrest of nine of their officers.

The affairs of the involved firms have been taken over by the Government. Traders wondered whether they could redeem stocks held by the companies by furnishing collateral to purchase the stock outright.

Atty.-Gen. Price said: "If there are persons who own certain stock or collateral, let them make their claim. These claims will be investigated and the claimants delivered their property."

All the brokers involved were charged with violation of the criminal code which Col. Price explained involved conspiracy in affecting the price of stocks and bucketing, the price of stocks and bucketing, the price of stocks and bucketing.

Prohibition Bullet Kills Father on Way Home

Another innocent civilian killed in the government's efforts to enforce prohibition.

PERLIE A. THOMAS was returning to his home at 11, Pierce, St. in February, 1927, to spend the week-end with his wife and two small children. Hearing his home, he was accosted by a posse of five federal officers and a civilian. Once before he had been stopped at this same spot and badly beaten. He stepped on the gas. The officers overhauled him and fired a volley into his machine, killing him instantly.

H. J. Dams, prosecuting attorney of St. Louis County, Fla., reporting this case to the Washington Herald, September 23, 1929, noted:

"Inquest verdict, first degree murder; grand jury action, indictment for murder; other court action, Brownelee (Fred Brownelee, the civilian) sentenced to be executed; life imprisonment for two (Thelma R. Farrell and George P. Goutley, federal officers) and others never brought to trial. All subsequently pardoned."

Sen. Fletcher of Florida, commenting on this case in the Washington Herald, December 3, 1929, said:

"The killing in this case was outrageous and wholly unjustified."

Hit-and-Runner Flees Fusillade of Shots

Brooklyn, Jan. 31—A musical effort to stop the driver, but they were ignored. The shots and the horn around the countryside as the machine raced along at more than 90 miles an hour.

The wild ride began after Edward K. Kosiowski of Farrington St., Brooklyn, stepped from the sidewalk in front of St. Edwards' Church, was struck by an auto. Hospital with a fractured right leg and internal injuries.

According to Patrolman John Lucas, who witnessed the accident and who commanded another machine to give chase, the hit and run car was equipped with a musical horn.

He said that after striking Kosiowski the operator began tooting the horn and continued to do so until he escaped, 12 miles away. The State Farm, Lucas said, he fired a number of shots in an effort to stop the driver, but they were ignored.

TOUGH ENABLES DEAF TO 'HEAR'

Philadelphia, Jan. 31 (INS)—The deaf may now hear through their sense of touch by an electric device invented by Dr. Robert H. Gault of Northwestern University, the professor explained to reporters today.

Dr. Gault has named his device the "tactileator." It will not only enable deaf persons to understand spoken language, but will permit them to catch the inflection of words now denied them by their inefficiency.

The device enables deaf persons to read the lips 20 per cent more accurately, Dr. Gault said. It consists of a highly sensitive sound-box with indentations for the fingers and thumb of one hand of the deaf person.

The fingers thus pick up the vibrations caused by the sounds entering the ear or horn of the instrument.

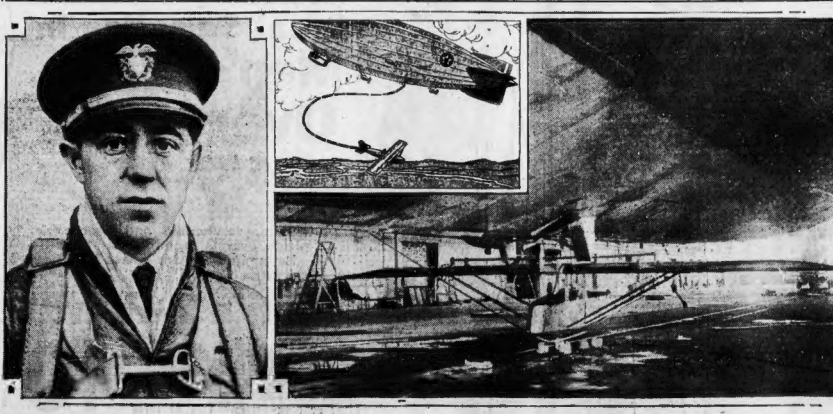

Seize Rum Shipped to R. I. as Hat Linings

Providence, R. I., Jan. 31—Seizure of six rum cases loaded with choice liquor, at the Union Station, has uncovered one of the boldest rum-running schemes in recent years, according to Federal prohibition agents.

The liquor, valued at between $100,000 and $200,000, was being shipped by express from Providence, Chicago, and Baltimore, in packing cases marked with the name of the "H. and H. Manufacturing Company, River Point."

Two men were arrested.

Launching of Glider From Dirigible Tested Today by Navy

The Los Angeles in the hangar at Lakehurst with glider attached. Diagram shows how glider functioned when dropped from the mother ship. These tests are made with gliders because the ever-increasing weight of motorized airplanes has made it impracticable for dirigibles to be used as mother ships for them. It is expected the motorized craft will become a regular part of the United States naval equipment. (I. N. R. photos.)

NATIONS LAUD LOST FLIERS

By T. M. (TAT) REED

Special Correspondent Aviation Correspondent, 102, by Vincent Avenue and

Telegraph Street

Motorship Vauk off Cape North,

Siberia, by Radio and Cable via

White Star, Alaska, Jan. 31.—In one of the most touching scenes I have ever witnessed, fliers of three nations—the United States, Canada and the Soviet republic—gathered and paid homage to two of their brave comrades of the air.

With bowed heads we listened to Comdr. R. S. Stippow of the Soviet ruled expedition as he eulogized

Carl Ben Zieglon and Earl Borsand, two fliers who bravely faced the death that ever menaces fliers in the stormy land and paid with their lives.

He extended to us his heartfelt sympathies for the loss of the two men and as an individual and representative of the Soviet republic, said he regretted he had been unable to do more to help us. Olaf

Swenson, skipper of the Nanku, who interpreted for him, said it was the most beautiful eulogy for departed he had ever heard.

Pilot Joe Croson, who first lighted the plane wreckage, and

Pilot Ed Young, relief in behalf of the American fliers, thanked the commander, his men and the Soviet republic for their fine efforts and their display of sympathy. The cheerfulness of all reached deep to our hearts. Mechanic Bill Hughes and I were the Canadians at the affection ceremony.

Comdr. Stippow was flown to the scene of the wreckage by P.

Joe Croson. As the little group gathered on the icy hummock they keenly felt the drama of their situation—for they knew that somewhere under their feet lay the frozen bodies of the two dead fliers.

Upon returning to the Nanku,

Comdr. Stippow wrote out his report for the Soviet government and said his plane would fly back to St. Lawrence bay today.

The digging has brought to light

Worland's helmet, his mittens, and a pair of gloves, and a few tools.

They were all widely scattered. We have six planes at the Nanku and will continue ferrying men to the work in speed as much as possible the digging operations. About 20 men are at work now. About natives and members of the crew of the Soviet steamer Stierovskio bound three miles north of the Nanku.

Although our efforts are being slightly handicapped by shortage of gasoline and dog feed, we will stay on this side until the bodies are discovered.

SPAIN TO FREE PRIMO'S FOES

Madrid, Jan. 31.—The new government of Premier D'Amazo Rescuer began his career today by taking a long step toward keeping Spain calm until a firm basis of readjustment follows the dictatorship of Primo de Rivera.

It was reported that the premier had decided to grant amnesty to all political enemies of the former dictatorship. This, it is believed, will have the effect of quieting much restlessness springing from these disoriented sources.

It was also reported that students and professors who had been barred from re-enrolling in the universities because of connection with last year's student riots would be permitted to enroll. This, it is expected, will get the student element behind the government.

Now that Primo de Rivera has departed from power there is much press comment favorable to him.

Block Power Grab of Potomac Beauty Spot

Washington, Jan. 31.—Conserva-

tivists of the Nation and Congress today had won half their battle to prevent rich power interests from obtaining control of Great Falls on the Potomac near the capital. The project would have blocked an ambitious program to build one of the world's finest memorials to George Washington.

The victory came with passage of the Cranston bill by the House authorizing the expenditure of $7,

000,000 for the land along the Potomac for park purposes and a memorial boulevard from Mount

Vernon to Great Falls.

The bill was sent on to the Senate, where it is expected that con-servativists will demand amendments forever barring power interests from Great Falls.

Representative Cranston (R, Michigan), charged that the chief opposition came from rich power interests, which have applications

before the Federal power commission for use of Great Falls.

lin, president of the Checker Cab

Company, 15 minutes before the company treasurer, Barney Mitchell, and a company driver, George

Everyone at the party is to be questioned. McLaughlin was missing early today. Police believe he may have gone into hiding fearing death from the same source responsible for the killing of Mitchell and Jackson.

The two men were found shot to death in Jackson's cab on Ridge boulevard in Rogers Park early yesterday.

In McLaughlin's home the living rooms were in disorder, with glasses and dishes as they had been left by the guests.

Art Treasures Saved by College Girls

Holyoke, Jan. 31.—Nearly 1000

girls students of Mt. Holyoke College at South Hadley, fought fought flames and rescued art treasures today, when fire of un-detected origin threatened destruction of the Dwight Arts building.

While some of the girls formed a bucket brigade and carried water into the basement, where the blaze started, before the fire department arrived, others rushed into the three-story building and bore to safety valuable works of art.

Although the Holyoke department was asked for aid and sent two pumps, the South Hadley firemen had the flames under control and confined to the basement, when they reached the scene. The loss was estimated at $500 to $1000.

The fire was discovered by Allan

Dickinson, a college employee, who was on the top floor of the building when the smoke began to rise.

He saw smoke issuing from a basement window, and on investigating discovered a blaze burning briskly.

Dickinson rushed outside and turned in an alarm. The girls, who were preparing for classes, responded in a body, and immediately went to work to do what they could.

The South Hadley department was on the scene in short order, however, and released the girls of their task. None of the art treasures were damaged, and the students went to their classes to take mid-year examinations.

BEER MADE IN HOME LEGAL, SAYS FORT

Washington, Jan. 31.—Rep. Fort (R), New Jersey, today balanced the benefits of prohibition against its evils, declared the former to be preponderant and pleaded for a calm and rational consideration of the problem of the dry laws.

"No question which, moves its partisans to fanatical emotionalism will ever be solved by their efforts," he said in address in the House. Fort until a few days ago was secretary of the Republican National Committee.

He suggested a clarification of the Volstead Act so it applies to the manufacture of wines and beer for home consumption, which, he argued, is permitted.

NO HARD LIQUOR

"If we're to drink at home, we can do that now—if we want it had enough to make it," he said. "So why change the law at all, unless, of course, we want hard liquor—and none of the advocates of change want that, do they? So where do we find it? Just where we started—with the Eighteenth Amendment and the Volstead Act."

Fort said he was opposed to prohibition when the 18th amendment was adopted, but that the first few years of prohibition had convinced him that it was of great value.

The "evils" of prohibition, he said, are "real, important and they must be checked, but in the law under which they occur is here to stay without substantial change."

ONLY 61 WETS IN HOUSE

Fort said that while 128 voted in the House against submission of the amendment to the States, the wet vote was 61. He stated that 61 wet votes in their unofficial organization. This circumstance he interpreted as a reflection of popular sentiment in the nation's 435 congressional districts.

America, he said, now buys for cash, and he added that there are whole communities today which not a single store sells on credit. The chief credit buying, he said, is installment purchasing of luxuries, and "the return of the liquor traffic would ruin that."

He challenged the opponents of prohibition to offer an alternative for the present system, and analyzed the possibilities of government selling as he saw them.

At luncheon this noon, daughter of Miss Eleanor Holton, in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert H. Holton, of Beacon st., and fiancée of Dr. Roginad Smithwick of Chestnut Hill, Miss Conklin, a Redcliffe student, is leaving for a trip abroad shortly.

The wedding was a simple affair, the ceremony taking place in the Church of the Ascension, Ipswich, and a small reception at the home of Mrs. George Bernard. PIANIST HEARD IN MUSICAL PROGRAM

Raymond Coon, who played a program of piano music at Jordan Hall last evening, is the type of musician who often baffles the professional listener. Getting himself a comprehensive, but poorly arranged, program that began with Beethoven's "Italian Concerto," continued with pieces of Chopin, Liszt and Debussy and ended, rather curiously, with Ravel's "Sonatine," Mr. Coon exhibited a mixture of vice and virtue difficult to disentangle.

Liszt's twelfth Rhapsody was primarily a delightful piece, and by all the laws of program-making it should end the program. Mr. Coon's reason for putting it in the middle was inexplicable except on the basis of a slavish following of chronological order. Program order aside, however, the pianist showed at once in the Concerto a facile but uneven technique, which was not helped by his insistence on playing too fast.

Parts of the Concerto were done splendidly, others played with little comprehension. Especially objectionable was a tendency often to repeat a phrase, so that what should have been climactic points appeared to be mere repetitions. Fallades in G minor and Waltz in E-flat major rendered similarly, though the latter was redeemed by a pleasant ending. Yet the F-sharp minor Nocturne was, in many respects, beautifully done.

O'Callaghan-Daley Wedding on Sunday

Miss Elizabeth Daley of 213 North Central ave., Wollaston, will become the bride Sunday of George Frederick O'Callaghan of 15 Rutledge st., West Roxbury. The ceremony will be performed at 7.30 o'clock in the evening in St. Anne's Church by the Rev. John J. Fisk. The pastor of the church, the Rev. John J. Fisk, will officiate at the ceremony. There will be a wedding supper and reception at the Little Theatre, 576 Hancock st., Wollaston.

Students Flock to Stoneham Carnival

New Spring Shoes in Keeping with Trend of Fashions

YES, it's time to talk of foot-wear. With spring in the offing, and delightful additions to the feminine wardrobe appearing every day, you will give a thought to the shoes that can make or mar your costume. Never have they been more decorative and more in keeping with the trend of feminine fashions.

The sketches here illustrate the variety of shoes the spring mode offers.

If you like to wear tweeds and tailored clothes, two of the models shown here are especially designed for you. The classic pump of kid has a Cuban heel, and tip and foxing of lizard calf.

For walking, the promenade shoe of leaved lines is a happy choice. The covered Cuban heel and perforated trimming of harmonizing kid make this an ideal complement for sports clothes.

If you play the role of spectator at sports events, you will choose the brown and white pump with one broad strap shown first in the second row. This is of white washable calf-skin trimmed with dark brown lizard grain.

THE bridge game, the luncheon, the matinee or tea engagement demands a shoe all its own. The one-strap slipper in kid with darker striping is a pleasing complement to cost afternoon costume. Or perhaps you prefer the two dressy open pumps.

One is of natural shantung linen with beige kid tip, foxing and heel. The other combines dark brown kid with natural water-snake. Either will take the honours at the bridge table. The strap model shows between the two may be chosen in one of several color combinations to accent the spring afternoon frock.

FEMININITY in its delectable characterizes the evening mode for spring. Fabrics such as crepe de chine, satin, tulle, silver kid and brocades are de-

Sojourn With Chic

THAT fashionable rabbit known as Japan has decided to do its bit in quest of further conquests, specially speaking. On cool days there is a decided demand for a lightweight fur coat into which category Japan gracefully slips.

One smart model is a jacket in acetate length that comes in a man shaded lapin with a cold-weather neckline trimmed by a row of printed silk. The same model is a shorter jacket in a white lapin. This has a silk scarf which runs rough shoddy for the fur forming a collar.

THE yoke in the back follows the Y shape of the pocket and the cuff ornament. A beret of the same bright red leather matches the coat smartly. The awger buckled belt encloses the natural waistline.

Large, flat and quite simple bag is of brown antique. Its design is uncompromisingly severe as two amber buttons which hold the diagonal strap are the only trimmings.

Hub Woman's Home Razed by Flames

Dublin, N. H., Jan. 31. — Fire which destroyed the building and contents owned by Mrs. William Amory of Boston, originated about the chimney and caused a loss of more than $10,000.

The loss is hard to estimate until a checkup on the furniture made by the owner.

American Tourist Swindlers' Victim

Nice, France, Jan. 31 (AP)—An American tourist, Fred R. Krebs, said to be a New York hotel proprietor, has been made the victim of three international swindlers.

He was said to have been robbed by them of $300 and a platinum ring set with diamonds worth $100.

HAND OF U. S. SEEN AS PERIL TO PARIS

Paris Jan. 31.—The newspaper Paris-Midi is an effort to increase the number of tourists coming here from the United States, has started a move to stop the Americanization of Paris. The paper declares that Americans will not want to visit Paris if it is just another New York or Chicago.

"Our boulevard are turning into Broadway," bewails a leading article in the Paris-Midi. "Montmartre is beginning to bear a suspicious resemblance to Coney Island. How can we expect Americans to flock to Paris if they can only find here a transplanted city from the United States?"

"We are to believe that the American tourist is looking for his own country when he comes here?" Not at all. And yet our tradesmen, decorators and hotelmen all seem to think he is. Before long no doubt we shall see our great restaurants turned into quick lunches offering ice-cream and five courses dinners at a moment's notice."

The article deplores that even the famous couture houses, which have long been the pride of Parisian, are beginning to fall into American influence.

"The French dress-making industry suffers largely to American women and naturally enough she is given what she wants," it was explained. Thus Parisian style must suit the American mode. One of the couture houses even imports American mannequins.

The article concludes that decisive action must be taken to ameliorate the condition, otherwise French institutions will disappear and American tourists will seek romance in other foreign lands like Egypt or India.

Dr. Charles F. Whitworth, industrial psychologist, of Bryn Mawr, Pa., paints another picture. He said in an interview, the United States is becoming as European. Europe is becoming as Americanized.

"America is ceasing to be Americanized," said Dr. Whitworth, who is collecting material in Europe for a book on psychology. "The old taboos are losing their influence as the United States becomes more and more like Europe."

Dr. McCarthy to Talk

Dr. Denis A. McCarthy, distinguished writer and editorial adviser for Globe and Country, will speak at the first monthly banquet of The Hamilton School Literary Club, Monday evening, at the University Club.

HIGH ANTARCTIC PEAKS PIERCE ICE PLATEAU

By SIR DOUGLAS MAWSON
Commander of the British, Australian and New Zealand Antarctic Research Expedition

(Copyright, 1930, by the Royal Geographical Society, London. Reproduced by permission of the Royal Geographical Society, London. Radio via London, R. E. Discovery, 1930-1931.)

26 (Delayed)—The past three days have been spent by the expedition along the northern coast of Enderby Land, adding detail to the maps by the aid of our airplanes, flown by Pilot Campbell and Bert Douglas.

On one occasion, at an elevation of 4000 feet, some 73 Nansen peaks, the highest rising 7000 feet, were observed protruding through the ice plateau, which latter is still rising in the south to a greater elevation than 4000 feet.

From the airplane, Photographer Hurley secured numerous views both of the coastline and the land and sea ice formations. Hereabouts, the land ice slopes are generally of the nature of glaciating ice to a height of 2000 feet, above which level they are composed of hard, compressed snow, thus offering the best possible surface for sliding. The whole region is most attractive for land operations.

Meteorological observers made good use of the recent fine weather on several occasions, observing the test balloons to a height of 4000 feet. Prof. Johnston, using both the Monksman and Otter trawls, made intensive collections of marine bottom life of the continental shelf.

In some of these catches, so abundant are the sponges bristling with long, silicious spines, that the biologist and their enthusiastic assistants soon found their hands and clothing loaded with irritating, invisible glassy spines.

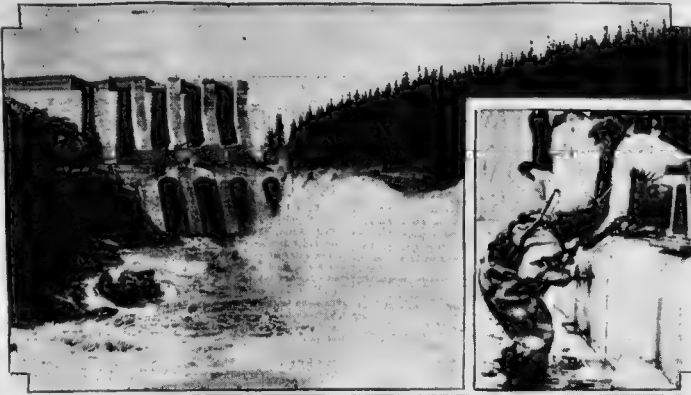

The Discovery's coal supply is now so depleted that it is a matter of great concern to all aboard.

Germany Quits Saying Don't; Signs Changed

Berlin, Jan. 31 (AP)—Republican Germany is waging a militant battle against the time-worn "verboten" which started one in the zone everywhere in the days of Prussian militarism.

A leader in the campaign is the General Federal Railway, the largest public enterprise in the fatherland.

"Service instead of 'don't' is the slogan with which this organization is conducting its campaign against the admittedly too many 'don'ts' travelers are supposed to observe, but which are 'inve' hundred in the breach than in the observance."

Now determined the railroad is in its desire to stamp out the "verboten" will be seen from a recent administrative order to all station masters and other officials. "The

FEAR RUSSIAN EXILE SLAIN

Paris, Jan. 31 (AP)—The disappearance of Gen. Alexandre Paul Koutepoff, continued today the sensation of the hour with the newspapers devoting columns of space to it. Police were kept busy running down dozens of supposed clues but only one appeared at all credible.

This was the testimony of a man who said Koutepoff was kidnapped in broad daylight on a Paris street last Sunday while walking a few blocks between his home and the Russian Officers' club.

This witness said he saw the general, who succeeded the Grand Duke Nicholas as head of the Russian exile here hustled into a red taxicab and carried off. This aroused fears of friends, that political enemies murdered him.

Boy's Auto Kills Man, 80

Manchester, N. H., Jan. 31.—Michael Langdon, 80, of South Hookset, died today after being struck by an auto operated by Walter E. Brown, 37, of Concord.

BELIEVE OTHER AUTO PICKED UP BRADLEY

Framingham, Jan. 31—Belief that John F. Bradley, Framingham clubber, missing since Saturday after his car was demolished in Natick, was picked up by a passing motorist, was expressed today by Bert Sullivan of the Framingham hospital, whose detail of State police is searching for the missing man.

The theory is strengthened by failure of police, boy scouts and citizens to find any trace of Bradley in nearby swamps and woods, and by denial of persons passing over the highway, of having seen any person of his description.

That amnesia is responsible for Bradley's disappearance is doubtful, inasmuch as he was apparently mentally normal after the accident. He talked logically with witnesses before setting out for a telephone after the accident, Sullivan declared.

Bromley Will Try Tokio Flight Again

Burbank, Cal., Jan. 31—A third attempt will be made next summer by Lieut. Harold Bromley to fly from Tacoma, Wash., to Tokio, he revealed when he placed an order for the airplane to be used.

Two efforts last year resulted in crashes during the take-off.

We certainly wish that the walls of the Martha Lee Cooking School were of India rubber and could be stretched to accommodate all the visitors who flock from far and wide to take advantage of these cooking lessons.

The classes are enrolled with regular members almost to capacity, but we'll repeat that any chairs vacant after the opening hour of 6:30 p. m. on Tuesday and 7 p. m. on Wednesday are available for 40c visitors. At this time of year 40c are bound to be necessary because of the cost of the food and with the school as conveniently located as it is at 5 Winthrop st., just off Summer st., it is easy for visitors to drop in at these hours. This week's lesson centered around a company luncheon which started with a clam and mushroom soup, followed by flounder rings with lobster and mushroom filling, fried potato sticks, string beans au gratin and cream puffs with chocolate sauce. The soup combined clam broth, heavy cream and mushroom purée deliciously. The recipe came from the chef of one of Boston's largest hotels, by the way. The flounder rings were so inter-

BROOKLYN GANG LEADER SHOT

New York, Jan. 31 (AP)—A Brooklyn waterfront gang leader was near death today because he failed to take in too much territory. For years, said police, James Murray had led Brooklyn's Rialto 50th street gang.

But with the recent slaying of Charles "Red" Donnelly, leader of the White Hand gang, along the East River, near the Brooklyn Bridge, Murray started casting envious eyes and had some of his associates with himself as leader. A meeting of Rialto 50th street workers was called and White Hand men attended. The lights suddenly went out. When they were turned on again Murray was found shot in the head and ribbed. At the hospital he said: "My boys will take care of this." He is 40 and has a police record that includes a 10-year term in Sing Sing.

Hang Young Slayer From Gibbet in Barn

Brownville, Mo., Jan. 31 (INS)—Lawrence Mabry, 19, of Betha, calmly expressing innocence, was hanged from a crudely assembled gallows erected for the occasion in a barn adjoining the rustic old Cooper County Jail. His execution carried out the death sentence for the murder of William Busch, law student, at Sedalia during a holdup February 4, 1928. The trap, placed in the haymow of the barn, was sprung at 9:15 a. m.

Dumb as an Oyster? This One Bit Its Toe

Hammond, Ind., Jan. 31 (INS)—Thomas Martinson, chief of the Hammond police force, reported today that he was bitten by an oyster. A friend of mine sent me a barrel of oysters from Baltimore. I love oysters. Well, knocked out the top of the barrel with the butt of my gun and reached in to pull one out, when the darn thing bit me. "Can you imagine an oyster biting the hand that's about to feed on it?"

Breaks Windows for Unpaid Bill

Because he had not been paid for plastering a house at 22-24 Melbourn ave., Newtonville, Albert Pecorari, 42 years old, of 25 Melbourn ave., took a novel means of wreaking vengeance. He broke windows in the house. That's why he was fined $100 in the Newton District Court. He appeared and was released on bail for the superior court.

THE HOW OF GOOD COFFEE

A prized piece of equipment in the Martha Lee kitchen is a creole coffee brazier which produces clear, sparkling coffee even in the hands of a child.

This brazier looks like an old-fashioned enamel coffee pot—except that there's an upper compartment something like a percolator on the bottom and over the perforations is placed a circle of rice paper obtainable at your favorite department store. Next comes the finely ground coffee, then the carefully measured boiling water is poured in.

Now make the toast, scramble the eggs and by that time you can remove the instant from the brazier and behind a potful of the clearest, most fragrant and delicious coffee this side of the Great Divide.

JAIL 2 WHEN 1 LIGHTS MATCH

Rutland, Conn., Jan. 31 (AP).—A peculiar train of circumstances led to the arrest today of C. L. Farwell of Wainwright, and J. M. Buchanan of Hartford, when the two followed an alleged attempt to take gasoline from the A. P. Philipe garage.

According to the story told by Constable Greer, the men ran out of gasoline while using a borrowed car. They noticed the Phillips garage door open and sought to replenish their tank. Gasoline was spilled on the floor and Farwell's gloves were saturated. When he lighted a match to search for the leak that caused the spill the gloves took fire and he dropped them to the floor, lighting the spilled gasoline. The explosion awakened the garage owner. Damage to the garage amounted to several hundred dollars.

Secret of Good Puffs, Fine Coffee

Here's the secret of successful cream puffs—and the coffee to serve with them.

SULTAN'S WIVES GET FORTUNE

New York, Jan. 31 (AP).—A London dispatch to the New York Times today said that nine surviving widows and 12 children of Abdul Hamid, Sultan of Turkey, who was deposed in 1909, have obtained $50,000,000 from his $150,000,000 estate.

Greer, it was reported in London, offered $200,000,000 to Abdul's former harem favorites now living in poverty in various capitals of Europe.

Abdul, who died in prison in 1918, was said by some to be the richest man in the world.

Chicago Turns Even Pay Shortage Into a "Racket"

Chicago, Jan. 31 (AP).—Out of Chicago's money shortage has been born a new racket—the sale of city licenses at half price. The two men who conceived this method of getting money without working for it were arrested after they tried it on a restaurant at Michigan ave. and Fifth st.

They told him they were city employees whom the city was unable to pay.

"For that reason, we have permission to get our money by selling you a city license at half price."

The proposition sounded fishy in the restaurant keeper, who called police.

RUM RUNNING PLANE DROPS

Bathurst, N. B., Jan. 31 (INS).—An airplane believed used for rum running was reported forced down today in a blinding snowstorm in the Gulf of St. Lawrence. The plane was caught between crunching ice cakes and was in grave danger of being broken up. Persons who saw the ship, downed were unable to say how many were aboard.

TRY THESE DELICIOUS CREAM PUFFS

The Cream Puffs illustrated on the right and made in the Martha Lee Cooking Glasses this week, answered 422 questions at a fall sweep. They are the almost inevitable first effort of the novice homemaker or bride who wishes to step into the more advanced culinary classes. But Cream Puffs are undeniably temperamental and all too often come out looking more like pancakes than crispy puffs. However, Martha took a morning off to wrestle with several Cream Puff problems, and gives you the following recipe guaranteed to be trouble-proof.

CREAM PUFFS

1 cup butter
1 cup boiling water
5 eggs
1½ cups flour
Put butter and water in saucepan and place on front of range. As soon as boiling point is reached, add flour all at once, and stir vigorously. Remove from fire a soon as mixed, and add unbeaten eggs one at a time, beating until thoroughly mixed. Between the addition of eggs. Drop by spoonful on a buttered sheet. The mixture is sticky, moist, and sticky. Spoon as nearly circular as possible, having mixture slightly piled in center. Bake 30 minutes in a 350 oven. With a sharp knife make a cut in each large enough to admit whipped cream filling. This recipe makes 18 small cream puffs. The puffs could be filled with the following corn starch filling or with whipped cream and served with this delicious chocolate sauce.

CORN STARCH FILLING

1 cup scalded milk
1½ cup sugar
1 tsp. corn starch
2 yolks of eggs
1½ tsp. vanilla
Mix corn starch and sugar. Add milk, and pour gradually on the eggs slightly beaten. Cook in double boiler, stirring constantly. Cool and flavor with vanilla.

CHOCOLATE SAUCE

1 ounce unsweetened chocolate
2 tbsps. butter
1½ cup boiling water
1½ cup sugar
1½ tsp. vanilla extract
Melt chocolate in top of double boiler. Add butter, and when melted pour water on slowly stirring constantly, then add sugar. Bring to boiling point and boil 5 minutes without stirring. Add vanilla and few grains salt and serve hot.

This same Cream Puff mixture, which in professional circles is called choux paste, also serves for eclairs, bonnes bouches, and timbales of crispness to serve in place of croissants in soup.

Crime Is Rampant as Drugs Go Unchecked

By WINTERED BLACK
San Francisco, Jan. 31.—Bomb throwing in Chicago.

Gangster war in New York.
Murder plots in San Francisco.

And dope at the bottom of every bag of these things.

Penitentiaries jammed to the doors, and two-thirds of the new prisoners youths under 25.

Reform schools packed and jammed with boys and reform schools jammed and packed with girls.

And the forty factories of the world working over time turning out the narcotic drugs that are beginning to abroad the world in the terrible miasma of dope.

What are we going to do about it—us Americans?

Over at the Geneva conference the American lookers-on are beginning to hear the old, old story of duplicity and double dealing that is beginning to be something like a cruel joke.

DUMPED INTO U. S.
Asia raises the crop from which dope is made and Europe makes most of the dope in her great rich flourishing factories.

And there over half of it is dumped in the United States either by way of the open law or by way of the smugglers.

When it gets here what are we going to do to keep it away from the boys and girls who ought to be growing up into courageous, happy, hopeful manhood and womanhood?

Representative Porter of Pennsylvania has two plans that he thinks will help.

One of these plans is to limit the number of druggists and doctors who are allowed by law to prescribe narcotics.

If this bill passes it will not affect in any way the reputable physicians who are doing everything they can to help in the fight against dope.

It will simply affect known addicts and known mercenaries who have already been convicted of irregular practices in the dope line.

The best doctors in America, the best hospitals and the best humanitarians in the country are behind that bill.

SEPARATE BUREAU
The other part of Rep. Porter's plan is carried out in another bill now before Congress in Washington.

This bill provides that the government shall establish a separate and distinct narcotic bureau, with a man at the head of it who has his reputation and his ambition, enlisted in the hand-to-hand struggle with the growing menace of dope.

The narcotic bureau is now a part of the prohibition department—and it's just about time that we made the fact that this dope evil cannot be fought with one hand.

The prohibition department has probably done the best it could with the men and the money and the information at hand.

But that best—is not good enough.

Isn't even half good enough.

The dope danger is not decreasing.

It is growing bigger and stronger and more terrifying every single day.

Why not open our eyes and see it and so to work in this plain, practical way suggested by the two Porter bills, and was if something real can really be done about it.

The Porter bills mean business—and every man of business and every woman of heart and good, plain, common sense in the United States, ought to stand behind these bills, and stand behind these bills.

Now.

A Wonderful Love Story by Author of 'Hollywood Girl,' 'Easy.'

What Has Happened Before
Tom Nicholson and his young and beautiful wife are happy with their baby and tiny house until wealthy neighbors, the Aldersons, come into their lives. Mrs. Alderson, whose husband is elderly, has an affair with a man named Jack. Lovejoy takes Tom to a card party at the Aldersons. Mrs. Alderson comes to look after the baby. Lovejoy is anxious to discover the truth. Lovejoy's former sweetheart, Tom, is jealous. Lovejoy is furious. Going out with Alice, she asks him to kiss her. She wants to get even with Tom. Next morning mutual recrimination takes place. Tom compliments Mrs. Alderson on her appearance. Lovejoy is pained. She fires a maid in spite of Tom's objections. Then daily letters arrive. They are for Mrs. Alderson, but Lovejoy has agreed to receive them for her. Now Go On With the Story

CHAPTER 12
TOM'S luck had taken a turn for the better. After the Alderson sale the company he worked for began to send him out to sell bonds to their best customers. And for every bond he sold he got something like $2 for his commission, along with his regular salary of $50 a week.

"We sure are in clover these days," he said to Lovejoy late one February night. "I'm going to make pretty close to two hundred bucks this week. I really am getting to be a Class A bond salesman."

He said it with a touch of boyish pride that struck her as being pathetic. His voice sounded tired, too. She said, looking up from her magazine, "you've been at that telephone for over an hour, making arrangements for tomorrow. I think you're working too hard—and before I wanted to go to the movies tonight. I said I did, before dinner."

Tom nodded, dropped down into his chair in front of the fireplace. "Yes, but you've often told me I mustn't waste money, too," he reminded her, reaching for his pipe and his box of tobacco. "I'm going to make money I'll have to make money every once in a while."

"You could have taken Mrs. Bennett to the movies with you," she said. "She's my idea of a good time."

"Mrs. Bennett" Lovejoy echoed Mrs. Alderson's name. "She's my idea of a good time?"

"But she was a couple that lived next door in a small yellow house that was the twin of the Aldersons' green one."

"Mrs. Bennett was a pale, quiet young man who had some kind of a little store of his own somewhere. Mrs. Bennett was small and plain and badly dressed always."

"She made all of their clothes and did her own sewing. She said it was as if she loved it. Sometimes Lovejoy would hear her singing at the top of her voice when she came out into the back yard to shake rags or hang clothes on the line."

"One day, after up, I'll take you to the pictures myself tomorrow night." Tom promised her. "I'll be Saturday night, and I can stay up late. And after I may go to the pictures with you a soda. While have a wild time."

He laughed at his mild joke. But Lovejoy ground her teeth. "The worst of it was that that was exactly Tom's idea of a good time. He was her idea of a good time. And have a chocolate soda and Mrs. Alderson's Drug Store."

BROOKLINE MAN SAVED FROM NORTH RIVER

Only 53 Cents in Pockets and Police Think He Was a Victim of Robbers

Belief that William R. Bullard, Boston and Brookline clubman, was blackjacked by thugs and thrown into North river to drown was the theory on which New York police today continued their investigation of the case.

Relative from Brookline and New Bedford reached his bedside to Bellevue Hospital this morning. He was taken there after the crew of a municipal fire boat had rescued his unconscious form from the icy waters.

Physicians stated that Bullard was suffering from the effects of immersion, but, unless complications arise he will recover.

CITY PROMISED PLAIN FUTURE OF SUNNY SKIES

Generally fair weather greeted New Englanders as they dug themselves out of the snowfall, and the storm which had held New England in its grip was over New Scotia today.

It left an inch or more of snow throughout New England. Snow was still falling today in New York.

The coldest spot in New England was Greenville, Me., with 16 below. Other cold places were Northfield, Vt. 10 below; Concord, N.H., 2 below; and Burlington, Vt., zero.

Fair weather through today and tomorrow with a slight rise in temperature was predicted for Boston by the weather bureau.

Blind Student's Skill Evolves New System

The touch system is now being used to teach osteopathy. It may not be quite the same as it is in osteopathy, but its use is just as effective.

It all started at the Massachusetts College of Osteopathy when Fred Loesche, a blind senior, was appointed as a student teacher.

Loesche has had marked success in diagnosing as well as treating a number of patients who have come to the school clinic. For his own aid in studying he has made up two original devices.

The first is a series of strings placed on a skeleton form. By moving the bones he feels the play in the strings and figures out for himself the action of the muscles.

All the anatomical work done from a manikin which can be taken apart by layers and by muscles and which he likens to a jigsaw puzzle.

His second invention is a spinal column made of a section of rubber hose instead of the customary rod which is stiff and does not permit of the normal motion of the spine.

He can curve it into the anterior and posterior positions naturally assumed by the body and study with his sensitive fingers what his eyes cannot show him.

ALLEN RATES SATURDAY

Funeral services for Arthur W. Allen, former treasurer of the World Peace Foundation, who died at his home, 38 Shepard st., Cambridge, from heart trouble, will be held Saturday at Mt. Auburn Cemetery.

Allen was born in St. Louis, Mo., and attended Washington and Princeton Universities. As a young man he was one of the engineers who built the Esch bridge across the Mississippi at St. Louis. Later he was connected with the wharf and shipping business in Chicago and New York.

Allen came to Boston in 1910, he became assistant treasurer of the World Peace Foundation and the following year became treasurer. He held this post until his retirement in 1927.

He lived in Cambridge for the past 15 years. He is survived by his wife.

New School Nameless Due to Watertown Official's Row
A new school building which was recently opened in the West End of Watertown remains nameless because of the failure of town officials to agree upon a name.

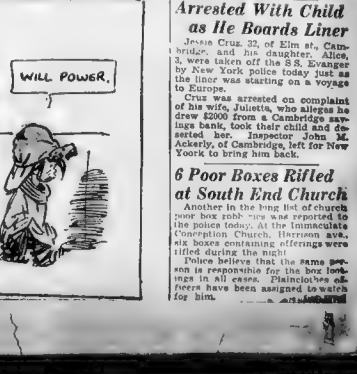

The plan of the special committee in charge of the construction of the building to name it the Brown school met with a sharp rebuff from the town clerk, Albert B. Sullivan, who said that the name of the school should be decided by the town meeting, which will be held in March.

Arrested With Child as He Boards Liner
James Cruz, 32, of Elm st., Cambridge, and his daughter, Alice, 3, were taken out of the boat by New York police today just as they were starting on a voyage to Europe.

Cruz was arrested on complaint of his wife, Juliette, who accuses him of deserting her. Alice was arrested because of the boy's behavior. Inspector John M. Akeley, of Cambridge, left for New York to bring him back.

6 Poor Boxes Riffled at South End Church
Another in the long list of church poor boxes was reported to the police today at the South End Congregational Church, Harrison ave., where a door had been broken open and six boxes of clothing and other articles were rifled during the night.

Police believe that the same person is responsible for the box burglaries in all cases. Plans to place officers have been assigned to watch the boxes.

MOSES TO SHUT ALL CHICAGO 'SPEAKEASIES'

Chicago, Jan. 31 (AP)—State's Attorney John A. Swanson has been reappointed by his special investigation, Pat Roche, a plan to eliminate speakeasies from the country's catalogue of crime.

The plan calls for closing every speakeasy and gambling place. Word would be passed that every such place must be closed. The Grand Jury would stand by to give prompt action against any owners, police or politicians who are tempted to oppose the cleanup.

Stiff elimination of gambling and liquor places, Roche said, the gangsters sources of revenue would be removed and thus check a daily business estimated at $20,000. With their income cut off, Roche believes, the gangsters would take leave to halt the bombings which they would hold responsible for the cleanup campaign.

From the day of his appointment as special investigator it has been Roche's theory that gang crime could be halted if the law would eliminate the source of gangster revenue. It was with this in view that he conducted several raids on drug tracks last summer and fall, declaring gangsters held heavy financial interest in the traffic.

ASKS FUNDS FOR CHICAGO'S POOR

Chicago, Jan. 31 (AP)—Joel D. Hunter, general superintendent of the United Charities, has broadcast an appeal for more funds to carry on relief work during the present emergency.

He said that the continued severe weather and unemployment, coupled with the city and county budget cuts, have produced a situation that has brought heavier demands on his organization that it has had to meet in many years.

The emergency which thousands of Chicago's homeless families face due to cutting of budgets for public social service and relief departments, and the holding up of mothers' pension checks, continues.

A pledge of $100,000 for the maintenance of police and health protection and other essential public services was handed in by citizens' relief committee, headed by Miss H. Strawn.

The pledge was made by the Buildings Managers' Association, a group controlling most of the downtown buildings.

In a decision today the court reversed a finding of the industrial accident board that the widow of Norman K. Morse was entitled to compensation of $18.50 a week for 400 weeks.

SLIM LINES? QUI BUT CORSETS? O, MY, NO!

Paris, Jan. 31 (AP)—The rebels in the style ranks, whose battle cry is "cancel corsets!" were upheld in Lucien LeLong's summer display, when modern Diana—"sans"—a single stay—modified the courtier's slim-waisted fashions.

The front row of a musical comedy chorus could be no more gullible of waistlines than the slim mannequins who paraded M. LeLong's new styles, streaming around-length evening dresses, medium length street clothes, sport dresses six inches below the knees, and bodices that snug military walt.

The achievement of the professional mannequins in displaying the slim models without the assistance of corsets left many professional stylists skeptical, however. They maintain that only exceptional women can wear such styles without the light girdle that is so much worn today. Most of them, they say, will need the assistance of a little whalebone.

Madame LeLong, the former Princess Nathalie Paley, helped her husband receive his guests at the fashion display.

Try to Sing Congress Into Anthem Action

Washington, Jan. 31 (AP)—The stirring notes of the Star Spangled Banner, sung by two sopranos, rang loud in the House Judiciary Committee room and echoed through the four corridors of the House office building as a group of patriotic organizations descended upon the Capitol to urge Congress to adopt officially as America's National Anthem the now famous song of Francis Scott Key.

Although the song, inspired by the staunch defense of Fort Mifflin at Baltimore during the British fleet in the War of 1812, now is regarded through custom as the official anthem to which a mighty nation stands at attention, Congress never formally has made it so.

The effort of the patriotic societies today was directed to that end and they urged approval of the Lathrop bill which would authorize this action. For years, Representative Lathrop of Maryland has sponsored the measure without success.

The two sopranos who sang the song were Mrs. Elsie Jones-Bellamy of Washington, and Mrs. Grace Evelyn Boudin of Baltimore. It also was played by the navy band. The women sought to demonstrate to the committee that singing of the song was not difficult as was Official recognition of the song was urged by Capt. Walter I. Joyce, of the Veterans of Foreign Wars.

"I stood on San Juan hill in 1898 and heard four hands play that tune," he told the committee. "All around me in pup-tents men were lying sick with fever, but when they heard that glorious old tune every man somehow got to his feet. With all due respect to Congress, no matter what is decided to do in this matter the Star Spangled Banner is our song and will remain so forever."

98 out of 100 Women Report Benefit.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has the written endorsement of half a million women.

By accurate record, 98 out of every 100 women who report after taking it say, "It helped me."

What other medicine has such a record of success?

ETHEL FLEETWOOD
3013 Bardin St., New Orleans, Louisiana

"I am a saleslady in a store. My nerves got the best of me and I never had good finger nails because I couldn't stop biting them off. My appetite was poor and I was always tired. One of my friends told me that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound would help me. I knew that it controls the nerves because I have no desire to bite my nails now and they are long and well kept. My appetite is enormous and I feel like a new person. I have recommended your good medicine to many girls and I assure you that they have found the same good results. I will gladly answer letters from women or girls."

Miss Ethel Fleetwood.

MRS. ANGELINE MAJKOWSKI
5174 3rd Place, Harvey, Illinois

"This is to thank you for helping me get my health. After I was married I had to be operated on and it didn't do me any good. I was so worried and cried all the time for I had spent over $800 for sickness and yet I didn't get better. I saw a sign about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound in a drug store and I took four bottles. Now there is happiness in our home, for we have a little boy with nice red cheeks. I am healthy myself and the good Vegetable Compound I take the better I feel. I have told my friends about it for I believe it will help anybody if they take it regularly."

—Mrs. Angeline Majkowski.

MRS. W. OVERMANN
918 Regina Ave., St. Louis, Missouri

"Nine years ago when my little girl was born dead, I seemed to lose every bit of strength and vitality. I had an awful pulling down feeling in my back and my legs were so stiff I could hardly walk. I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for about four months. The next year I became the mother of a fine 11-pound baby boy. After he was born, I kept on with the medicine to build me up. About four months ago I became very nervous and rundown and suffered from other troubles which I knew Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable would relieve so I started taking it and now I feel fine again. Many of my friends could write a book on the good the Vegetable Compound has done them."

—Mrs. W. Overmann.

DOLORES WINTERS
842 N. Lawndale Ave., Chicago, Illinois

"I got so nervous I could not sleep at night. I felt weak and had no appetite. My mother recommended Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I took two bottles. It helped me very much and I recommend it highly. I feel so much stronger, have a better appetite and work in the factory every day."

President Herbert I. Tinkham
Douglas Shoe believes business will be on the upgrade by spring, when he now only a few weeks away. He finds orders from retail dealers are already 12 per cent over those of a year ago. About 7000 pairs of shoes are turned out daily at the Brockton plant, the same rate as a year ago. Of course the eyes of all the shoe men are centered on Washington and hope of a protective tariff will lift him.

Herbert I. Tinkham

Mr. Newman came into the fine line branch of the New England line in August when it was announced he was negotiating for a merger of almost half the fine cotton goods mills of this section. It was said that owners of 1,500,000 spindles were agreeable to his project. The Guaranty Trust Co. of New York is reported to back Mr. Newman. The Newman plan differs from that of the Homer Loring, former Boston Maine leader, in that Mr. Newman would not flush the goods but would market the gray goods.

* * *

Announcement was made this morning that Mr. Newman had inspected all the New England textile plants with a view to the absorption of the Merchants' makers of fine goods and with total of around 600,000 spindles.

Leaders' Views

What Justifies
Huge Mergers
Now Common

A Morgan Representative
Tells: More Combinations
Being Planned
By R. C. FORBES

NEW YORK, Jan. 31.—This is proving another merger year. Since January 1 almost every day has brought merger news of some kind. And one hears whistles and sees signs of combinations of magnitude from hand in industry in transportation, in utilities, in banking, in medicine, in real estate, in publishing, in advertising, in agriculture and other service organizations.

Certain very important combinations are being planned, says the Morgan representative.

The objective of the most prospective leaders in many of our basic industries is to knit as many of the possible combinations of companies and firms into a few large corporations and financial institutions.

I asked a J. P. Morgan & Co. representative the other day: "Why is your firm becoming such a trendsetter in the financial world, especially in the way of merging so many companies?"

"There is only one justification," he replied without a moment's hesitation. "For effecting huge combinations, unless the conditions result in economies and in better service to the public, they cannot be defended. No merger which fails to do that is warranted."

Without discussing deals in which our firm has been interested, I should say that most of the larger combinations which have been justified on economic grounds have been some others which have borne marks of being made for the sake of making prominent profits.

The head of one of America's largest institutions said to me this week: "There are several phases of banking, several banking departments which are only in their infancy. The smallest banking unit in the country is the handling of investments for depositors is another. Still more important is handling of money for people of modest means, the very people who most need it. These have estates expertly handled, because the beneficiaries are not of had financial training to fit them to invest and take care of investments intelligently."

"Business of the type mentioned, however, cannot be handled except on a mass basis. We have to go to the limit in service and through education, build up such volume in the business as to render services of incalculable value at trifling cost to the client." He emphasized the words "trifling cost."

As first thought that the terrific stock market crash would kill all merger plans and negotiations, the Morgan representative says that the magnitude of some of the many merger movements during the current month, which is described as "a 200,000,000 Utilities Merger," is the result of the placing of the mammoth Commonwealth & Southern Corporation directly in control of the Allied Power & Light, Commonwealth Power, Penn-Oil Edison, Southern Power, Light and Heat, and the Commonwealth & Southern's own operations.

The 200,000,000 combination of Middle-West independent steel manufacturers, the Republic Steel Corporation, has been effected through the formation of the Republic Steel Trust, which is controlled by the Republic Steel Trust and the Republic Steel Trust.

The two-and-a-half-billion dollar Central States Steel Corporation absorbed the Atlantic Portland Cement Company, a 100,000,000 dollar deal, and a headline over a Texas department store says that the department store is considering a merger with the Grande Ole Oil Company.

Economic Transition Puts Brains at Premium in 1930

By MERVILLE STANLEY KUYESER

NEW YORK, Jan. 31.—The old-fashioned, pre-war era doctrine that knowledge is power is more likely to be applicable to stock market operation this year than last.

Economic brains will be at a premium throughout 1930, and the speculative profits will, to a larger extent, go to sophisticated operators, with the more naive more or less out of the market, there is a marked concentration of technical and statistical factors are being closely watched, and trading profits depend on subtlety, agility, and skill.

Until the bull market collapse, the market was a place of opportunity or loss of time for a while with the course of the ticker. Prices did not reflect intrinsic values, or even reasonable prospects, but they were acquired irrespective of known assets or earning capacity, but because it was widespread about the great number of companies were accumulating losses.

Of course, the market was checking up on such groups, asked by the market, and the market was true that his holding company was the most successful of the public utility enterprises. The financial results of the companies were not published. "We would not pay out cash for an inflated stock, but we would be willing to exchange it for a stock of a company which had a real value."

With the economic situation which is the present will avoid becoming a victim of the market's pessimistic during reactions.

The surprise showing which Sears, Roebuck & Co. disclosed in making a survey of the country's retail trade, especially in the case of General Electric, Wood, president of General Electric, the last of the year, was a real surprise. It is believed to be a substantial record of active responsibility he picked up in the case of General Electric, incidentally, a number of Westinghouse, which is a modern expansion of industry.

It is difficult to compare current statements of the United States Steel Corporation, which is the more remote past. DEBTS ISSUES WEIGHT INVESTORS

By JOHN L. COOLEY
New York, Jan. 31 (AP)—The offering of nearly $4,000,000 in new issues diverted attention from bond issues today, but the market showed considerable resistance to switching operations.

The Interborough Telephone & Telegraph Corporation's $5,000,000 bond in 20 year, 5 per cent debentures, offered at 97, was oversubscribed and the bonds "sold" about two hours after the opening.

The company's convertible 4 1/2% bond had yesterday's closing price of 100 1/2, and the $4,000,000 in new issues depressed by the influence of the new issue, recovered a shade.

Offerings of the day were a $15,000,000 issue of Electric Light & Power 8 per cent 10-year debentures, at 97 1/2; the City of St. Louis $4,000,000, 4 1/2 per cent, yielding 4 3/4; and a $5,000,000 in New York Central Railroad 4 1/2 per cent, yielding 4 3/4.

Changes in the domestic list were mostly small. American Telephone & Telegraph's 4 1/2% bonds, which had been 100 1/2, were 100 1/4. There was little interest in the high grade bonds, which proved to be the point of the market.

Hudson & Manhattan refunding bonds at 100 1/2, and the $4,000,000 in new issues were mixed, with French 7 1/2% and 7% retaining their firm position. German 7% bonds were 100 1/2.

United States governments were steady. New bond offerings this week totaled $22,000,000, compared with $17,500,000 last week and $13,750,000 in the corresponding week last year.

Teheran, Persia, Jan. 31 (AP)—The National Assembly today adopted a bill prohibiting the import of silver into Persia, and the dependence of the price of that metal and the serious hampering of trade resulting from the consequent decrease of foreign exchange.
